DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not typed on a separate sheet. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification does not include the appropriate "Headings".

Appropriate correction is required.

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).

(k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Objections

Claims 1-12 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claims 1-12, line 1, the term "patent" is not necessary. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 contains no specific structure. The claim only indicates that the invention is "protective pants". The claim contains only functional language describing the use /benefits of the garment. The claims are replete with indefinite language and instances where there is a lack of proper antecedent basis. There are many occurrences which are too numerous to mention. Examples are as follows. In claim 3, line 2 it is not clear as to how the inner and outer parts relate to the side and central parts. In line 9, the use of the term "further border portion" is confusing in that it is not clear as to which "border portion" is referred to in lines 11 and 13. Reference numbers should not be relied upon to clarify components with the same name. In claim 4, line 4 there is no antecedent basis for "the transverse edges". In line 5, there is no antecedent basis for "the free ends". And in line 11, "those border portions". In claim 5, line 6 there is no antecedent basis for "the front side" and in line 9, "the rear region". In claim 8, line 6, there is no antecedent basis for "the retaining means" since they were previously referred to as "means for securing". In line 14, the reference to "the top side or the inner side" in the alternative is confusing. In line 17, the term "wide portions" has no proper antecedent basis since they were previously referred to as "wide sections". In claim 9, line 12, there is no antecedent basis for "the front edge". In claim 10, lines 3 and 5 there is no antecedent basis for "the second liner". In regard to claim 12 it is not clear as to whether a method or apparatus is being claimed since the method language refers back to an apparatus and there are no specific method steps claimed only a description of the parts and their locations. However, the claims as best understood have been examined on their merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Roberts (US 5,546,607).

Roberts discloses the protective pants configured as claimed and the method of constructing the pants. Roberts discloses the basic body with an outer part (60) and an inner part (50), waist (41) and leg portions (42,43), a central part (11) and side parts (12,13) with edges located and connected as broadly claimed. (See Roberts, col. 3, lines 14-45, figures 1, 3 and 7).

Claims 5-11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. None of the cited references, alone or in combination, disclose the central part as being formed of two elongate sections configured as claimed in claims 5-11.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
